Creating value through future based ideas development

Henrik Hovgaard, Research Chef

Seeing is believing and as many ideas are difficult to grasp the ability to visualize is indispensable in the creative process. Henrik knows a little about a lot, and moves as a river dancer between madness and genius. Creating the future is always a leap of faith, but a successful leap requires a solid foundation. Henrik delivers both – thorough research and crazy ideas packed together in comprehensible concepts. He will take you by the hand on a creative rollercoaster ride that will force you to look in new directions in search of those great new ideas.

Henrik is the Research Chief at Future Navigator where he specializes in gathering, organizing and conceptualizing trends, new knowledge and "non-knowledge". His expertise is idea development, conceptualizing and visualization.

He worked with idea development, design and real-time 3D-visualization at The Centre for Advanced Visualization and interaction at Aarhus University. He holds a Master degree in Information Technology from Aarhus University and a teaching degree from Silkeborg Seminarium.

Presentations and workshops

Henrik will tailormake presentations and workshop to fit your individual needs and expectations. He has given numerous presentations & workshop with great success. Clients experienced "Changing perspective from the most to the best", "the hunt for originality", and "Interview with the global generation - the art of not making peoples heads explode", to name a few.

Fell free to contact Henrik and hear about ideas for presentations or workshops about futurism to fit your needs - even the needs, you did not know, you didn't know would be important.
